9.1. By this Assignment Agreement the Assignor guarantees that if while the Assignee owns the Claim the Borrower fails to timely or fully perform its obligations arising from the Loan Agreement, the Assignor will make to the Assignee the payments due to the Assignee instead of the Borrower according to the Schedule, as it was in force at the moment the present Assignment Agreement was entered into, regardless of any amendments to the Loan Agreement and Loan maturity extensions, if any have been made.

9.2. The obligation set out in the sub-clause 9.1. of the General Provisions of the Assignment Agreement according to the Civil Law of the Republic of Latvia is deemed to be a guarantee (in Latvian: galvojums) in favour of the Assignee.

9.3. The obligation set out in the sub-clause 9.1. of the General Provisions of the Assignment Agreement is effective from the moment the Claim is assigned to the Assignee and shall be valid until the occurrence of any of the following conditions, whichever occurs first:

9.3.1. The Assignee has received the entire due Claim;

9.3.2. The Assignor exercises its right granted by the Assignment Agreement to repurchase the Claim;

9.3.3. The Assignee alienates the Claim to another person.

9.4. When making a payment instead of the Borrower the Assignor acquires a Claim right against the Borrower in the amount of the respective payment, and the Assignor has the right to freely dispose of their claim right against the Borrower, including its alienation in favour of third parties.

9.5. The Assignee is entitled to request information as to whether and when the Assignor has fulfilled obligations of the Borrower instead of the Borrower, and the Assignor upon receiving such a request shall provide such information, there is no obligation to reflect this information in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile or otherwise notify the Assignee on exercising the guarantee obligation.

9.6. shall reflect information on the fact of repurchase in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile and the Assignor shall pay the Assignee a compensation for the Claim (repurchase price) by increasing the balance of funds specified in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile by the first part of the repurchase price (if paid in instalments) or the entire repurchase price (if paid in one instalment).

10.4. If the Loan Agreement provides for repayment of the Loan in a single payment, the repurchase price is equal to the amount, which is equal to the sum of the remaining Claim principal and accrued and unpaid Interest at the time the repurchase right is exercised. If the Loan Agreement provides for the repayment of the Loan in a single payment, the entire repurchase price shall be paid on the day when the repurchase rights are exercised.

10.5. If the Loan Agreement provides for a Schedule, the Assignor is entitled to (i) pay the entire repurchase price in one instalment as specified in the sub-clause 10.4. of the General Provisions of the Assignment Agreement on the day the repurchase right is exercised, or (ii) to pay the repurchase charge in instalments. If the repurchase price is paid in instalments:

1) payments starting from the moment of exercising the right of repurchase shall be made on the same dates as set out in the payment Schedule, as in force at the moment of signing of the Assignment Agreement, and repurchase price shall be an amount that is not less than the payments the Assignee should receive as a result of the obligation execution by the Borrower pursuant to this Schedule starting from the moment of exercising of the right of repurchase;

2) if at the moment of exercising of the right of repurchase there should have already been payments made in accordance with the Schedule, the first instalment of the repurchase price shall not be less than the payments the Assignee should have received by the time the repurchase right is exercised as a result of the Borrower fulfilling its obligations pursuant to the Schedule, reducing such amount by the payments already made to the Assignee;

3) if at the moment of exercising of the repurchase right there are no due and outstanding payments in accordance with the Schedule, at the moment of exercising the repurchase right the Assignor shall pay the Assignee the first instalment of the repurchase price of EUR 0.01 (zero euro and one cent);

4) irrespective of the Schedule and the Loan maturity term the Assignor in any case, at its discretion, is entitled to make the payment of the repurchase price in full or in part earlier than it is scheduled, in which case the repurchase price is reduced by the amount, which would decrease the amount of the Interest payment made by the Borrower, as would be the case of an early repayment of the Loan.

10.6. The Claim is deemed to be sold back to the Assignor, i.e. it is considered that the Assignor has exercised its repurchase right, and has acquired the Claim, when TWINO has reflected the information in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile on the fact of exercising of the repurchase right and the Assignor has made the payment of the repurchase price or the first instalment thereof in compliance with the procedure provided for in the Assignment Agreement.

10.7. If the Assignor has exercised the repurchase right, then the clauses 3.-9. of the General Provisions of the Assignment Agreement shall become null and void and do not apply.

10.8. The Parties agree that the Parties by this Assignment Agreement have agreed on all essential provisions of the repurchase agreement.

10.9. The Parties agree that the object of the repurchase within the understanding of this Assignment Agreement is all Assignee's claim against the Borrower arising out of the Loan Agreement, as it is at the moment when the repurchase right is exercised, regardless of whether the Claim has decreased or increased during the execution of the Assignment Agreement, or there have been any changes made in relation to the Claim, the Loan Agreement in respect to the Borrower or Lender, or any other changes.

10.10. The Lender is entitled to dispose of the Claim to other persons only when the Assignee has been paid repurchase price in full.

10.11. The obligation of the Assignor to pay the repurchase price does not constitute taking of deposits, it does not create financial instruments or securities of any kind, and without a prior consent of the Assignor it cannot be pledged, charged or disposed of.

11. Limitations of use of the Borrower's personal data

11.1. The Parties have agreed not to inform the Borrower of the present Assignment Agreement during the entire duration of the Assignment Agreement, and thereafter, and refuse to bring in this context, any claims against one another.

9. Guaranty of Borrower's obligation performance

9.1. By this Assignment Agreement the Assignor guarantees that if while the Assignee owns the Claim the Borrower fails to timely or fully perform its obligations arising from the Loan Agreement, the Assignor will make to the Assignee the payments due to the Assignee instead of the Borrower according to the Schedule, as it was in force at the moment the present Assignment Agreement was entered into, regardless of any amendments to the Loan Agreement and Loan maturity extensions, if any have been made.

9.3.3. The Assignee alienates the Claim to another person.

9.4. When making a payment instead of the Borrower the Assignor acquires a Claim right against the Borrower in the amount of the respective payment, and the Assignor has the right to freely dispose of their claim right against the Borrower, including its alienation in favour of third parties.

9.5. The Assignee is entitled to request information as to whether and when the Assignor has fulfilled obligations of the Borrower instead of the Borrower, and the Assignor upon receiving such a request shall provide such information, there is no obligation to reflect this information in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile or otherwise notify the Assignee on exercising the guarantee obligation.

9.6. If the Assignor exercises its guarantee obligation, actions are taken to reflect the funds received by the Assignee in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile and deductions are done according to the Assignment Agreement, in analogous manner as it is done when funds are received from the Borrower.

10. The Assignor's repurchase right

10.1. This Assignment Agreement entitles the Assignor to repurchase the Claim from the Assignee at any moment, and the Assignee refuses in this regard to raise any objections or claims, including to raise objections and claims for lost profit.

10.2. In the event that the Assignee wants to sell the Claim to another Investor, then only on condition that the Assignor repurchase right shall also apply to the new acquirer of the Claim.

10.3. In case the Assignor wants to exercise the repurchase right and to repurchase the Claim from the Assignee, TWINO shall reflect information on the fact of repurchase in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile and the Assignor shall pay the Assignee a compensation for the Claim (repurchase price) by increasing the balance of funds specified in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile by the first part of the repurchase price (if paid in instalments) or the entire repurchase price (if paid in one instalment).

10.4. If the Loan Agreement provides for repayment of the Loan in a single payment, the repurchase price is equal to the amount, which is equal to the sum of the remaining Claim principal and accrued and unpaid Interest at the time the repurchase right is exercised. If the Loan Agreement provides for the repayment of the Loan in a single payment, the entire repurchase price shall be paid on the day when the repurchase rights are exercised.

10.5. If the Loan Agreement provides for a Schedule, the Assignor is entitled to (i) pay the entire repurchase price in one instalment as specified in the sub-clause 10.4. of the General Provisions of the Assignment Agreement on the day the repurchase right is exercised, or (ii) to pay the repurchase charge in instalments. If the repurchase price is paid in instalments:

1) payments starting from the moment of exercising the right of repurchase shall be made on the same dates as set out in the payment Schedule, as in force at the moment of signing of the Assignment Agreement, and repurchase price shall be an amount that is not less than the payments the Assignee should receive as a result of the obligation execution by the Borrower pursuant to this Schedule starting from the moment of exercising of the right of repurchase;

2) if at the moment of exercising of the right of repurchase there should have already been payments made in accordance with the Schedule, the first instalment of the repurchase price shall not be less than the payments the Assignee should have received by the time the repurchase right is exercised as a result of the Borrower fulfilling its obligations pursuant to the Schedule, reducing such amount by the payments already made to the Assignee;

3) if at the moment of exercising of the repurchase right there are no due and outstanding payments in accordance with the Schedule, at the moment of exercising the repurchase right the Assignor shall pay the Assignee the first instalment of the repurchase price of EUR 0.01 (zero euro and one cent);

4) irrespective of the Schedule and the Loan maturity term the Assignor in any case, at its discretion, is entitled to make the payment of the repurchase price in full or in part earlier than it is scheduled, in which case the repurchase price is reduced by the amount, which would decrease the amount of the Interest payment made by the Borrower, as would be the case of an early repayment of the Loan.

10.6. The Claim is deemed to be sold back to the Assignor, i.e. it is considered that the Assignor has exercised its repurchase right, and has acquired the Claim, when TWINO has reflected the information in the Assignee's (Investor's) profile on the fact of exercising of the repurchase right and the Assignor has made the payment of the repurchase price or the first instalment thereof in compliance with the procedure provided for in the Assignment Agreement.

10.7. If the Assignor has exercised the repurchase right, then the clauses 3.-9. of the General Provisions of the Assignment Agreement shall become null and void and do not apply.

10.8. The Parties agree that the Parties by this Assignment Agreement have agreed on all essential provisions of the repurchase agreement.

10.9. The Parties agree that the object of the repurchase within the understanding of this Assignment Agreement is all Assignee's claim against the Borrower arising out of the Loan Agreement, as it is at the moment when the repurchase right is exercised, regardless of whether the Claim has decreased or increased during the execution of the Assignment Agreement, or there have been any changes made in relation to the Claim, the Loan Agreement in respect to the Borrower or Lender, or any other changes.

10.10. The Lender is entitled to dispose of the Claim to other persons only when the Assignee has been paid repurchase price in full.

10.11. The obligation of the Assignor to pay the repurchase price does not constitute taking of deposits, it does not create financial instruments or securities of any kind, and without a prior consent of the Assignor it cannot be pledged, charged or disposed of.
